PRINCETON THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY
PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

October 3, 1961

To the Members of the Princeton Seminary Community

Dear Friends:

Each year the Seminary community awaits eagerly the appearance of the Handbook. Over the years it has achieved an indispensable place in the life of the campus by acquainting us with each other and by making clear to us our responsibilities as members of a community that is disciplined by the Word of God.

Together we are entering a year of rich promise. It will be a time in which through the Sesquicentennial Celebration our heritage will be re-realized as we become part of a living tradition. New curricular patterns will take shape, new areas of theological concern will be explored, and new colleagues will take their place in the ongoing life of the Seminary.

We congratulate the editors on their excellent work as we pledge ourselves anew to the ministry of Him who has called us.

Faithfully yours,

Jas. I. McCord
President
